Daydreams of the balmy and exotic island of Cuba inspire Isaac Manevitz for the creation of Ben-Amun's newest Havana jewelry collection. Evoking the sultry and glamorous luxury of Cuba's 1950's splendor, when Hollywood's elite flocked to Havana for fun in the sun and vibrant nightlife, the collection boasts colorful statement jewelry with poppy red, sunshine yellow, and papaya orange. The bold resin pieces are handcrafted with a smooth touch and are often linked with leather, and mixed gold chains, sure to complement any breezy maxi dress or billowing boho caftan and sunhat during the height of summer travels.

Dating back thousands of years, the lustrous pearl has proven to stand the test of time in fashion. Introducing the stunning Lattice Pearl collection by Ben-Amun, a modern interpretation of this enduring element, complete with delicate clusters of pearls sitting pretty in stunning gold lattice patterns. For this collection designer Isaac Manevitz focused on a more structural design to create this unique geometric base to best spotlight one of the oldest and rarest materials in our history - the majestic pearl. Exuding classic beauty and a contemporary sophistication, the Lattice Pearl collection by Ben-Amun is one for the history books!

Respected designer Isaac Manevitz goes against the grain to design his all-new Natura collection, which beautifully mixes the raw essence of nature with a touch of minimalism. Smooth wood beads in primitive colors are anchored with strong leather and sleek silver accents, to create a polished, unexpected look. Manevitz successfully fuses the spirit of Mother Earth's original elements with the refined sophistication of modern fashion. A piece from this collection adds a finishing touch to a monochromatic, multi-textured outfit or a bold pop against a bright, patterned ensemble.

The Seville Nights collection by Ben-Amun offers the sophistication of opulent gold and fringe with an edgy twist, reminiscent of the rhythm and fluidity of two intertwined Flamenco dancers in the heat of the moment. This collection features modern geometric shapes mixed with rich jewel tone accents and lengthy gold tassel fringe. Isaac Manevitz meticulously designed the collection to evoke the seductive charm from the bewitching maze of Sevillian streets, its historic churches and gardens, and endless tapas bars, for which the Spanish are famous. Add any of these pieces to a decadent ball gown or rocker leather jacket, and heads will turn. That's a guarantee.
