STYLING NOTES

The Dylan Cami gives you a go-to piece when you're wishy-washy on what to wear — or just in mom-brain mode. The snug fit and deep open V, hugs and then flares slightly for a wavy movement at the hemline, and wider straps to hide your bra. Offered in a grey slate, terracotta rouge, the silky Cupro fabric makes you feel comfortable in your skin. Wear bare in the summer and layer when the air starts to chill.

STYLING NOTES

As summer turns to fall, wrap yourself up in the Everyday Cardigan for cool nights. This sweater-weather staple in heather clay and heather grey has a merino, cotton blend cardigan stitch and hits at the thigh. Detailing includes a wide ribbed shawl collar, full-length sleeves, deep, front bucket pockets, and a drop shoulder. Style it up with a rolled sleeve, crisp button-down, and tailored pants, or down with a simple tee and jeans. This is a cardi you won't want to be without when the season turns.

STYLING NOTES

The Julia Soft Flutter Top, in black and clay (think terracotta roofs in Italy!), lightweight cotton, distinguished by an ever-so-slight eyelet detailing and subtle fringe throughout. This sweet sleeveless top has a flutter ruffle from the shoulder to the bodice for added impact. Its roomy body lays beautifully on a bump (or no bump), and a wide scoop neck makes for an easy on and off, so you're perfectly primed for pregnancy and beyond. Perfect Day to Night top?

STYLING NOTES

The Ricky Slip Dress is a day-to-night-out staple. In slate grey and rouge silky Cupro, this dress will lay beautifully over the bump at any stage. The full-length maxi silhouette hugs all the right places, and is dressed up by a V-neck and adjustable spaghetti straps. This is a must-have for chasing the minis when paired with dressy sneakers, or a no-brainer for ladies' night out when paired with jewelry and your favorite heels.
